

REFERENCES for Karen Lamoreux Digital Content Developer

“ . . . smart, conscientious, detail-oriented . . . ”

It was my pleasure to oversee the work of Karen Lamoreux in CEB’s conversion of its legacy content (approximately 50,000 printed pages) from Word format to XML format. As Conversion Coordinator, Karen's responsibility was to plan and schedule the conversion of approximately 135 products. She recorded and tracked title-specific details using a custom database that also allowed her to generate reports for use by the converters and others in production.

I can unhesitatingly recommend Karen for any position requiring a smart, conscientious, detail-oriented, and talented person with a positive attitude towards learning new skills, mastering new tools, and solving problems. She takes assignments and gives you results. She worked with staff in multiple departments at CEB and gained the respect of those she worked with. I found her curious and eager to learn new softwares and other tools and able to master tools and information with little coaching. Her skills and efforts during her time at CEB were of immense value to our organization. She will be an asset anywhere.

“ . . . willing to do whatever it takes . . . ”

Despite aggressive deadlines, impossible tasks, countless stakeholders, ever-changing schedules, and multiple visions and versions, Karen’s determination has never flagged. She has been on 24/7, willing to do whatever it takes to get the product out the door.

“ adaptive to new technology . . . ”

Karen is a thoughtful and meticulous copyeditor and developmental editor. Karen grew with the project as the team grew. She was adaptive to new technology and ever-changing job responsibilities, schedules, and visions of the app, and she garnered respect from members of her own team as well as in studio and production.

“Thorough and thoughtful ...

Thorough and thoughtful are the words that come to mind when I think about Karen. We were both hired around the same time to work on a project for Pearson developing a K-12 tablet-based curriculum for both English Language Arts and Mathematics. I am impressed with Karen's savviness, which she demonstrates in her communication with developers. On each team we have worked together, Karen has been a valuable member, and a great person to work with.

Senior Digital Editor and Grade Span Lead Editor (ELA) at Pearson Education

" . . . meticulous, accurate, and thorough . . ."

Karen was the copy editor for a large and complex law practice book for which I was the project manager. Her editing was meticulous, accurate, and thorough, and she was dedicated to making the book a high quality publication. She has a positive and can-do approach to her work and is a pleasure to work with.

" . . . eagle eye, sharp pen, unerring accuracy . . ."

Karen is an extraordinary copyeditor, intelligent, witty, and possessed of superb skills. She edits substantively complex text carefully and deliberately, with an eagle eye, a sharp pen, and unerring accuracy. But more than simply editing, she actually engages with the material, questioning it, testing it, and, when necessary, drafting original material to replace poorly-drafted originals or to fill in gaps. Anyone who hires her would be delighted and amazed at her performance, her work ethic, and the quality of her efforts.

" . . . someone with good ideas who is very easy to work with . . ."

Karen is an excellent editor and production copyeditor, and I enjoyed working with her very much on new books here at CEB. She is very experienced--- someone with good ideas who is very easy to work with. I can recommend Karen without hesitation.

" . . . leading to lower costs and faster schedules . . ."

Karen joined Jennings and Keefe Media Development as an editorial assistant and soon rose to the position of project manager, where she helped with the developmental scheduling and reviewing/planning of major textbooks on such topics as health science and computer information systems. She worked closely with our production staff to plan the cost-effective development of software application tutorials in Word, Excel, Visual Basic, Access, PowerPoint and so forth -- full-color, quick-schedule, multi-part books for demanding world-class publishing clients.

The results have been outstanding. Not only has the quality of the writing been improved by her seeking out and hiring and managing a new stable of writers, but problem-solving and process along the way has been improved, leading to lower costs and faster schedules.

" . . . excellent with clients and vendors alike . . ."

Maurer & Manos, LLP is a small law firm specializing in personal injury litigation. As a legal assistant, Karen has been invaluable to our firm's success. She is immensely talented and capable of handling many tasks at the same time. She is organized, efficient and extremely committed to doing the best she can. She is a superb team player. She is a self starter, has always displayed excellent judgment, and needs no supervision. She is excellent with clients and vendors alike. She is creative, possesses a natural curiosity, and is not afraid to undertake new challenges.

Unfortunately, due to a change in the firm, we closed the office and Karen's position was eliminated. In more than 23 years of practice, I have never worked with a more capable or dedicated assistant than Karen, and I will truly miss her. She would be a wonderful addition to any company, and I would recommend her without qualification for any position to which she may apply.

What My Colleagues Have to Say:

"... an understanding of issues from multiple perspectives..."

I had the pleasure of working with Karen on an extensive curriculum development project. She had many roles including editing and developing educational content, tracking instructional sequences, and copy editing. Karen's work was thorough, thoughtful, and always came with an understanding of issues from multiple perspectives that made the process of working together a rich experience. Karen is creative, a problem-solver and a great colleague.

... Karen mentored me ...

Karen mentored me when I joined the copyediting team at Pearson and we worked together for 2 years on a tablet-based curriculum project. I quickly discovered her sharp eye for detail, thoroughness, and, above all, patience. As both a copyeditor and developmental editor, she is extremely organized and hard working; she completes every task with grace and good humor despite intense deadlines and changing variables.

... always ready to share her knowledge ...

I had the pleasure of working with Karen for almost two years, during the development of a K–12 educational app at Pearson. Karen is a highly skilled editor who performs both copyediting and developmental editing with thoroughness, depth, keen intelligence, and insight. She's very adept with technology and always ready to share her knowledge and expertise with her colleagues. Karen is a joy to work with, and I recommend her highly!

"... a joy to work with ..."

Karen's sharp intelligence, diligence, and delightful sense of humor make her a joy to work with; I wholeheartedly recommend her. As an editor, Karen is exceptional at relating small sections of content to the whole piece and at maintaining consistency throughout. She has a keen eye for detail and is able to zero in on errors or potential problems that may be less obvious to others.

"... a colleague you can count on..."

Karen is an agile, organized editor who oversaw my work as freelance proofreader at a top ad agency years ago. Imagine my surprise when I contacted her when I was looking for work and she gave me new ideas and a hot lead that led to a book editing contract! Karen Lamoreux - a talented colleague you can count on!
